Boundary Changes Erupt In Protests

An avalanche of concerned and apprehensive parents descended on members of the Placentia Unified School District's Educational Facilities Planning Committee last week as they eyed possible boundary changes for students at Sierra Vista and Van Buren Elementary Schools.

The changes, with a target date of September, 1976, are being prompted by the sudden growth of new homes in the area, which threaten to inundate Sierra Vista on the west and Bernardo Yorba Junior High School and Esperanza High School on the east.

As parents filled every inch of the Board Room of the PUSD Administrative Offices and spilled through open doors to the outside of the building, committee members heard proposals that might at least temporarily solve some of the problems.

Involved also is the concern that Brookhaven Elementary School, an institution frequently criticized by parents for its open classroom type of structure, may become too small to be able to offer its students a good educational program.

In a review by Pat Bowman, PUSD Director of Planning and Construction, aimed at members of the layman committee but eagerly audited by the concerned parents, Bowman explained that the California state system of approving building plans for new schools (and assisting with building funds) does not function until students are in the district and can be physically counted.

"Just because you have $20 million in bonds you can't just start a school. It doesn't work that way," Bowman informed the crowd.

Also on the drawing board, Bowman revealed Thursday night, are plans for the John O. Tynes Elementary School, east of Placentia's new City Hall, for which square footage has now been justified to the state and a second elementary school in Anaheim on La Palma, east of Imperial Highway.

But that is only the beginning. Six additional elementary schools will be required in the 34 square mile Placentia District, along with another junior high school and an additional high school.

"We're going to have discussions next week with the owner of the property at the southeast corner of Alta Vista and Van Buren where the tree farm is, to put a new junior high school," Bowman explained.

"That junior high school will be associated with Esperanza and Bernardo Yorba will be associated with the fourth high school that will be built east of Bernardo Yorba," Bowman explained to the vocal parents.

"We are in a state of flux. To know exactly where your children will go to school...that is down stream," Bowman articulated.

"What are we going to do about the future overcrowding at Bernardo Yorba and Esperanza? Not short term, but long term. That is the problem. We're going to have short term overcrowding at Tuffree and El Dorado but it's going to peak and pass and Kraemer and Valencia are going to continue to climb. But Esperanza and Bernardo Yorba are going to explode!" Bowman warned the parents.

Of concern to the committee Thursday and to parents, were Bowman's suggestions that the Sierra Vista Elementary School attendance boundaries be shifted to make room for youngsters from 150 new homes now under construction. The eastern section of the attendance area, splitting down the center of Tuffree Boulevard, would instead attend Brookhaven Elementary.

The move would level the projected class size out at both schools to 29.9.

No parent in the room liked the idea.

Bowman also explained that first returns from the new housing near Placentia Avenue and Palm Drive is producing 1.2 children per unit instead of the expected .6, thereby further deepening the problem.

"If that continues," Bowman explained. "Sierra Vista will not gain 90 children, they will gain 197."

Parents generally spoke in favor of busing the youngsters living in the new construction and leaving students already in Sierra Vista where they are. Sierra Vista currently has 1,173 single family units in the attendance area.

LEARNING EXPERIENCE--And fun, too, was this map of the United States painted on a paved area at Fairmont School. The fifth grade classes project is designed to help students learn the states and their capital cities and also for games which the students will make up. Pointing to the area they worked on were Jodie Etzel, Charles Isaac, David MacKowiak, Mark Rhone, Eric Schmidt and Mike Wagner.

Students Increase May Require New School

An updated Master Plan for the Yorba Linda School District, based on a kindergarten through 8th grade system, would probably require a new school in the northwest section of the district before the maturation date following the year 1982.

The Master Plan projections were outlined by Bill Davis of Davis, Duhaime Associates, architects and master planners for the district, at the last meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Anticipating the need for a new site district administrators have been negotiating with the city for an exchange of district property on Valleyview for a new site.

After 1982 the K-8 student count would be in excess of 4,000 students. This school year the census is slightly above 2,400. They are housed in four elementary schools and one junior high.

All planning is being done with an eye towards averting, as much as possible, the need for students to cross Imperial Highway. This would mean some shifting of present boundaries and changing the pupil load slightly at the present schools.

The board rejected two plans that would establish a kindergarten through fifth grade-sixth/seventh grade or middle school arrangement.

Davis cautioned that the projections were "only a computation, we are not fortune tellers." He cited such intangibles as mobility of families as a significant factor in altering computations. "We have no statistics telling us what effect that has on districts," Davis said.

Deputy Superintendent J. Elton Patridge disclosed that he has been conferring with officials of the Richard Nixon Birthplace Foundation over the status of the home on Yorba Linda.

Patridge said that the foundation is investigating the installation of a fence, parking lot and stone marker on the property which is owned by the district.

The board voted to cancel its scheduled February 12 meeting which would have fallen on a legal holiday (Lincoln's Birthday) but turned down a suggestion that February 13th be declared a local holiday and that it be exchanged for another day of attendance within the school calendar.

Superintendent Sterling Fox pointed out that closing the school on February 13 would create a problem for faculty at the end of the school year.

John Best, principal of Yorba Linda Junior High, presented an outline for a Vandalism Prevention program designed to reduce vandalism during school hours.

Best said there is very little external vandalism but there is some internal student damage which the pilot program would hopefully eliminate. He added that weekend vandalism is usually not done by students.

The program would involve students and "instill pride" to reduce incidents of vandalism in restrooms, buses, classrooms and building exteriors.

The board had some reservations but generally felt the program should be attempted as it would provide a "positive learning experience."

Dollars allocated for vandalism repair at each school would be used as a reward for students at a rate of $1 for student at the junior high and 75 cents per student at each elementary school.

The balance of the fund is not used for vandalism repairs would go into a "student motivation fund." To put the program into effect the student council or a student committee would establish guidelines and goals under the supervision of the principal or his designee.

Miss Yorba Linda Pageant On May 1

Plans are progressing for the Miss Yorba Linda Pageant to be held this year on May 1. The site is still not decided although arrangements are being discussed to hold it in the auditorium at Bernardo Yorba Junior High.

This site is being considered because of the growing popularity of the pageant which last year drew an overflow crowd at the Library Multi-purpose Room. The junior high facilities can accommodate a much larger audience.

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors voted a $500 allowance to be awarded the pageant winner. Each contestant will again have a sponsor at a fee of $25. Under consideration is a charge for admission to help defray pageant expenses.

Meanwhile, the reigning Miss Yorba Linda, Karen Horn, is preparing for her second appearance in the Miss Orange County Pageant.

A second appearance is possible because of a change of date for the local pageant from January to May. OC Pageant officials have allowed Karen to represent the city for a second year.

The county event will be held on February 26 at the Plummer Auditorium in Fullerton. Tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Applications for the Miss Yorba Linda Pageant are also available at the Chamber office.

The Chamber will stage its annual Camelot Ball and installation of officers on February 21 at the Yorba Linda Country Club. Rev. Joe Guthrie will again be master of ceremonies and the Elmira Garcia Band will return to furnish music for dancing.

Bigonger, Star Move Offices

The law offices of Attorney Roland Bigonger are now located in the Lakeview Professional Plaza at 4848 Lakeview Avenue. The location is adjacent to the Lakeview Shopping Center.

Bigonger's move from 4897 Main Street opened the way for the Yorba Linda Star to move into his former offices. That move began today (Wednesday) and will continue for a few days until all equipment is in the new location.

Persons having business with the Star should check the 4861 Main Street address first. The telephone number will remain the same, 528-7080.

FRED CLODT

Clodt Board President

Fred Clodt has been re-elected to a two year term as president of the board of directors of the Yorba Linda County Water District.

M. Roy Knauft, Jr. was also re-elected to a two year term as vice president by fellow directors.

Their elections marked the biannual recognization of the board following the recent election which saw Clodt and Knauft re-elected by district voters to four year board terms and Art Korn elected to a two year term.

Clodt has been a member of the board since the district was formed in 1958. Knauft has been a director since 1964.

Korn was appointed to the board last April, replacing the late Rex Hastings and elected to his two year term in November.

ARB Rule Change Protest

Retention of Sue Brown as president of the Chamber of Commerce was voted at the Board of Director's monthly meeting although the manager of the local branch of Security Pacific Bank is being transferred to the West Anaheim office.

President Brown said the bank had agreed to allow her to serve out the one year term and that she would continue to reside in Yorba Linda. Directors agreed that she should remain as president.

Elected to fill a vacancy on the board was former director Norm Lytal. He replaces Tom Hogan who resigned after taking a new job in Hemet.

The board heard a report on the Air Resources Board's controversial Rule 20.1 changes and an appeal to protest the changes from Bill OpDyke, executive manager.

It is contended that the rule changes will have a sharp impact on the economy and result in loss of jobs. OpDyke referred to a protest against the rule changes made by Inland Action Inc. which termed the changes "grossly in excess of the what the State's economy can tolerate and not in concert with your economic policies." The "policies" referred to were those advanced by Governor Brown.

President Brown revealed that all board members would be receiving letters reminding them of the necessity of having paid their dues and responsibility to attend board meetings.

Campaigns Heating Up

The next month, plus a couple of days, will be busy ones for 11 persons who are candidates for the three seats on the Yorba Linda City Council to be contested in the March 2 General Municipal Election.

It will also be a busy period for the Board of Trustees and administrators of the Yorba Linda Elementary School District and the Fullerton Union High School District.

The latter individuals will be spreading information on their revenue limit increase requests which will be on the same ballot as the council candidates.

The candidates have two and possibly more "forums" to look forward to as an opportunity to acquaint the voters with themselves and how much they stand on the issues.

One such forum is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 4 at 8 p.m. in the Library Multi-purpose Room. It will be sponsored by the Yorba Linda Country Riders who invite the public to "Come and Meet Your Candidates."

Also planning a "Candidate's Night" is the Lynridge Homeowners Association. This event will be held on either February 3 or February 10. Association officers were to determine which night would be best for the candidates.

At Friday's Rotary Club luncheon meeting YL District Superintendent Sterling Fox and Deputy Superintendent Elton Patridge, both club members, will make 10 minute presentations each on "schools, present and future."

They will dwell on current test scores, the educational program, comparative studies of assessed values per pupil and general tax rates in the county elementary districts.

Both facets of the election got together last week when the school district officials briefed council candidates. Board President James Bremer hosted the meeting at his home. Trustee Robert Armstrong and Fox talked about the school situation and told why the district is asking for an increase in the tax revenues.

Nine of the 11 candidates were present. They were Jack Reid, Denise Mulick, Kenneth Hoyt, Larry Cope, George Matthews, Bob Frankeny, Herb Warren and Dale Chaput. Absent due to a Planning Commission workshop meeting were Irwin Fried and Anton Groot.

Voters Can Register

February 1 is the deadline to register to vote in the General Municipal Election and the two school districts Revenue Limit Increase elections. The school districts' questions will be on the ballot for the March 2 election of three persons to the City Council.

There are seven Deputy Registrars of Voters who are available. Their names and phone numbers are:

Velma Earll [City Hall] 524-5000, Faye Bellamy 528-3759, Shirley DeStefano 524-8154, Clarence Duncan 528-8216 [on duty in the Kountry Market], Henry Wedaa 528-0353, Doris Knauft 528-7131 and Margaret Rhoads 993-1315.

There will be a voters' registration drive at the Country Club Shopping Center on Yorba Linda Blvd., near Von's Market, on Saturday, Jan. 31 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

'New Frontier'76' Edition

Considerable progress has been made on the publication of the Star's "New Frontier '76" edition which will be published on Wednesday, Feb. 25.

Indications are that this edition, to be printed in four colors, will be the most informative ever published about this city in detailing its past, present and future.

Through articles, photographs and advertising, the story of Yorba Linda as Orange County's "New Frontier '76" will be told in a manner to attract new business and residents to the city which boasts the slogan of "Land of Gracious Living."

The edition is the second annual to be published as a joint venture of the Star and the Chamber of Commerce.

Business Fire Rates Lowered

Commercial and business enterprises served by the Yorba Linda County Water District can expect immediate and substantial reductions in their fire insurance rates, general manager Ralph Shook said this week.

"Insurance agents have told us that businessmen in our district should contact them to see if an immediate reduction on their current policy is in order or if they should take out a new policy at reduced rates," Shook said.

Both businesses and residences served by the water district were granted reduced fire insurance rates recently, due in large part to efficiency of the water district's water distribution system.

Many homeowners served by the district can also expect reduced fire insurance rates, Shook said, but probably not until renewal time.

"It's the businessman who will be materially affected by the new insurance rates," Shook said. "Reductions for a home in the $20,000 to $40,000 range will probably be only minimal, but the business and commercial enterprise that is carrying $250,000 or more in fire insurance protection is where the real impact will be felt.

Through Street System Studied

A "Through Street System" for the city is being evaluated by the Traffic Committee after its introduction at the January meeting.

The proposal by Richard Polen of the City Engineer's office and Consulting Traffic Engineer Hank Mohle will be studied and evaluated by committee members and discussed at the February meeting.

The system, outlined on a map, indicates streets which should carry the largest amounts of traffic and provide the fastest routes for traveling through the city in all directions.

Many of the streets so designated are used for those purposes now but others would be added to the system. It would require more signalization and stop signs.

The committee rejected a suggestion that additional stop signs be installed on Yorba Linda Blvd. at Kellog. The consensus was that the signs would create a greater hazard than already exists. Vehicles exiting from Kellog have to proceed with caution because of the traffic on Yorba Linda.

Another reason for rejecting the proposal was the installation of signal lights at the intersection, possible by May. That will be a joint project of the city and county.

Continued until the February meeting was a request for a three-way stop sign or left turn pocket on Yorba Linda into Casa Loma. Polen said the staff would like to add Richfield to the study.

A speed limit of 30 miles per hour in front of the Presley subdivision in the area of Kellog Drive and Arroyo Cajon was approved.

Water Refunds

Annual sewer refunds totaling $60,000 have been mailed out by the Yorba Linda County Water District, general manager Ralph Shook announced this week.

Shook said that this is the 14th annual refund to be paid out by the District. Shook also said that about 100 checks were mailed to developers and residents who have connected into the water district's trunk line facilities during the last 10 years.

The refunds went to those who paid service fees to connect to sewer lines and those who helped pay for construction of the trunk facilities, according to Shook.

The refunds equalize the cost the cost sharing of new facilities, Shook said.

Little League

Signup dates for the Yorba Linda Little League will be on two successive Saturdays, January 31 and February 7. Hours on both dates will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Signups will be held at Yorba Linda Junior High in Rooms 12, 13, 14 and 15.

Little League is for ages 8 through 12. Participants must be 8 years old before August 1, 1976. Senior League is set for 13 years and older. For further details see story on Sports Page.

PUSD Boundaries. . . .

"If we detach 144 houses from Sierra Vista to compensate for the 150 that are being built, Sierra Vista attendance area will have 1,179 and Brookhaven 1,079," Bowman explained.

Approaching the principals' dilemma, Bowan also pointed out that youngsters in an attendance area, rarely come in a convenient size of 60, therefore necessitating combining grades in one room to avoid illegal class sizes.

Attendance at Brookhaven, where no building is now in progress is dropping.

"What I'm worried about is that the schools get out of balance and then the educational program at the real small school will start to suffer. We know other areas in Southern California where this is already happening.

"What we're trying to do is get through the hump of the next three years," Bowman outlined. "Each school will have an eventual size of about 600."

Half day sessions also were mentioned in the dialogue.

"Sierra Vista has two portables. We're badly in need of them in the east as soon as we can get them out of there," Bowman expanded on another problem.

"We are going to be in dire need of two elementary schools in the fall of 1977. If we buy portables it decreases the square footage. If you lease them, it comes out of the education fund," Bowman explained the dilemma.

Questions and suggestions from the audience included: "Why does it have to be the people who are established versus the new people? Can't you bus the new area to the other school?"

"What is the difference of the quality at Sierra Vista and Brookhaven?" A Brookhaven teacher responded: "Where I am there are three teachers and 96 students."

"I would call this an adjustment for youngsters who have come out of classrooms of 30 that are completely self contained," a parent answered.

Parent: "Is there any way the upper grades can stay at least their last year?"

Another: "Take the Fullerton people out!"

Parent: "You have people coming into an area who are not established in a school district. If you are going to uproot anybody, the logical thing would be to send them to Brookhaven rather than uproot a bunch of people who are established."

Parent: "Why doesn't the school district standardize the quality of education throughout the district?"

Committee member: "I have spent three years on this committee and it's the first time I have ever seen so many people in the audience! We're trying to do out best."

The problems were equally ponderous for the Van Buren parents, whose youngsters on graduation, would not proceed to Bernardo Yorba Junior High School and Esperanza High, which are overcrowded but would take up slack at Kraemer Junior High School and Valencia High School.

Bowman explained to this group "We peaked in this area; then we went stagnant for about 18 months and then it really started. This does not include the Upper K Ranch or the Dominguez Ranch (in Yorba Linda). We don't have any figures on that."

"We're going to build a new junior high school, new high school and six elementary schools in the eastern section within the next five years.

Bowman explained that youngsters in Anaheim, east of Imperial Highway are already being bused "because Glenknoll (Elementary) is completely saturated. We are considering adding to the Van Buren attendance area and taking away from Glenview and Orchard (elementary schools), because of the heavy saturation."

Bowman further added: "If they pull the (oil) wells, this entire area is ripe for subdivision!"

Parent: "Why don't you take the people in the new homes and bus them over to the new area. There are people here who have suffered for six years. We really are pawns of this committee...when you start tampering with the boundary lines."

Parent: "The bonds were not voted in for the people who are moving in...they were voted for the people who are already in this area."

Bowman further explained that the Van Buren students would stay at Kraemer and Valencia until the fourth high school is built.

Parent: "Will anything be done to increase the standard of education that comes out of Kraemer?"

Another: "I'd rather stay at Yorba...but if I had to move I'd rather go to Tuffree."

Bowman also outlined that students east of Fairmont between La Palma and Esperanza, will be bused to Golden Elementary first through third grades; kindergarten, fourth, fifth and sixth will be bused to Orchard and students from the housing developments east of the new Placentia City Hall will be bused to Wagner Elementary School.

One Van Buren parent expressed her concern. "I have a boy who will be a senior at Esperanza. He would stay. But my daughter then would be at Valencia. One in one school and one in the other."

"The football games should be really neat!" another parent added.

Mrs. Bonnie Korn, Yorba Linda, one of the Van Buren parents asked: "Could you consider closing Bernardo Yorba and Esperanza to any new students from any new constructed area, and busing those students into Kraemer and Valencia or to any school where facilities are available, leaving the children who are already attached to Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Little League in the Yorba area and taking those children who are not yet established and busing them?"

Bowman also pointed out that the district, which is now at an enrollment figure of 16,931 is expected to grow to 35,000 students.

Van Buren parents will hold a special meeting with committee members in the Van Buren Multi Purpose Room at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, January 29 and Sierra Vista parents are expected to return to the committee's regular meeting in the PUSD Board Room, Thursday, February 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Final decision on the boundaries will be made by the Trustees of the PUSD School Board.

Police Beat

Wednesday, Jan. 21

Somebody sure must believe the old saw about "if at first you don't succeed..."

At 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, for the second week in a row, some hopeful soul called Dee Dee's Duds, 4802 Valencia, Yorba Linda, and told the clerk, "There's a bomb in your shop. Do what I say and it won't go off."

When the clerk called the store manager, the feckless villain (by his voice, a man in his early 20's) once again hung up. The employees looked around the shop but again found no bomb.

The night before, $1200 worth of belongings were reportedly stolen from the back of a station wagon belonging to Dennis P. McCracken, 4661 Plumosa #6, while the car was parked in the apartment carport. Items lost included $500 worth of camera equipment, two CB radios, and an acoustic guitar.

Tuesday, Jan. 20

Tuesday morning last week employees at Mable Paine School, 4444 N. Plumosa, Yorba Linda, discovered 220 feet of chain-link fencing missing from around the school yard.

Thieves apparently cut the six-foot-high fencing free from fence poles, cut off the amount they wanted, rolled it up and hauled it off, police speculated.

That evening, between 5:30 and 6:30, a purse was stolen from the car of Sandra Kay Maitlen, 18701 Piper Place, Yorba Linda, while the vehicle was parked in front of apartments at 18822 La Casita, Yorba Linda.

Maitlen, who was visiting a friend at the apartments, estimated the value of purse and contents as $60.

Monday, Jan. 19

Sunday night last week someone took the rear tires and mags from Keith Schellhorn's car while it was parked in the lot at the apartments where Schellhorn lives, 4534 Bates, Yorba Linda.

Value of the loss was given as $150.

***

Monday noon last week Gilbert B. Hernandez, 4741 Avocado, Yorba Linda, told police that between then and Jan. 9 over $2300 worth of jewelry had been stolen from his home. Items reportedly lost included gold coins, wristwatches, and turquoise items.

Letters To The Editor

Rebuttal To Richards

Dear Sir:

Reference to your letter in your column, "Tow Away Protest" from Leo Richards.

Leo Richards appears to me that he expects policemen to be mind readers and forgets that what a police officer does for one citizen he should do for all.

In all my years of driving, I never knew that an illegally parked vehicle left unlocked meant that it was disabled. I always thought that leaving the hood up was to notify the police that the vehicle was disabled and a note. Since Mr. Richards ran out of gas, I'm sure he didn't have a pen and paper in his vehicle for just such an emergency.

As a driver, I have come up behind vehicles left in a lane of traffic, as most of us have, and know what a hazard this presents. Had this occurred in the early morning hours, there might be a tendency to sympathize with him. At 7:30 on a well traveled road his vehicle was probably a traffic hazard.

He wanted the officer to contact him at home to find out why his car was there. I bet he has an unlisted phone number. If the officer had responded to his home, would he have found someone? What about the next person in the same situation that maybe is just five miles away? The officer is expected to respond to that person's home also? Where does it stop?

His statement that the officer should wait until his next round before storing the vehicle. How does that officer justify himself if an accident occurs because of an illegally parked vehicle?

Mr. Richards time seems closer to an hour than 30 minutes. The cost of releasing the vehicle and towing has nothing to do with the police department. It seems his complaint should be more with the Better Business Bureau or Consumer Affairs.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Phyllis Hamilton
Fullerton

They're Grateful

Dear Sir:

This is an open letter to everyone who was involved in the search for two nine year old boys on Saturday evening, December 27.

We all know how wonderful and unselfish everyone was in giving their time to help find our boys. Thank you all from both our families. Thank you to the Policemen of Brea and all the Explorer Scouts, the ranchers of Yorba Linda and the members of the community.

Everyone gave so generously and worked so hard. But a very special thanks goes to a wonderful couple, Mr. and Mrs. McKensey, who went out of their way to see what two little boys were doing on the freeway. God Bless all of you and Thank You.

Sincerely,
Major & Mrs. James Snodgrass
Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Spence

You're Welcome

Dear Editor:

The Music Art Society of Yorba Linda wishes to thank you for the outstanding coverage of our annual Holiday Preview in December. We also like to thank the local merchants for donating doorprizes for this event. In doing so our dance was a big success.

Y Says Thanks

The Yorba Linda YMCA office would like to extend its thanks to those people who helped in the move Sunday, January 11th. The office was moved across the street (still in Swenson's Realty) to 18452 Yorba Linda Blvd.

The Senior High YMCA Backpacking Club, led by Kirk Fulks, Ken Anderson and Diane Flagg did the moving and Yorba Linda Equipment Rental donated the truck and trailer needed to haul the furniture and equipment.

Student Smoking

Editor:

As concerned parents and PTA members, we urge you to join us in stressing the health hazards our children may suffer due to tobacco usage.

Our school, during science units on the abuses caused by using tobacco, narcotics, and other dangerous drugs, seeks to educate our students; as parents, we need to reinforce this education within the home environment.

The California Education Code 10602 states cigarettes may not be used by students on campus; suspension deemed just punishment for possession and/or use.

The Yorba Linda Junior High PTA supports our local school district's ruling, Board Policy 5703, on student smoking.

Furthermore, we are communicating with local businesses calling for strict compliance to state law regarding tobacco sales to minors. Adults and peers serve as models for our youth; our responsibility is absolute.

With concern,
Pat Myslicki

These ceremonies marked the completion of the eleven-day Wines of Italy Cruise which featured a comprehensive program of Italian wine seminars, film showings, and tastings of Italian wines.

Lilienthal participated in these activities and also passed a special qualifying examination on Italian wines given at the end of the cruise in order to qualify for the Wines of Italy diploma.

This Wines of Italy cruise, which took place from November 18 to 29, was organized by the Italian Trade Commission and Costa Line to give passengers from all over the USA an opportunity to learn about and become acquainted with the fine wines of Italy while enjoying an exciting vacation aboard the luxurious Federico C.

The Wines of Italy cruise is expected to become an annual attraction on Costa Line's schedule of Caribbean cruises.

A few years ago I had lunch in a restaurant owned by a fellow member of the Rotary Club I belonged to. After the waitress added up the bill I decided to have a piece of boysenberry (my favorite) pie for dessert. She added another 45 cents to the bill.

**

I was horrified at the cost of the pie. Rotary presidents are always looking for some excuse to fine a member so I told our prexy about the pie. He fined the restaurant owner for "over-charging" another member. We had a lot of fun about the cost of the pie for a long while.

**

Since then I have usually had pie in a restaurant with the other food and hadn't noticed the price for at least a couple of years. But I had another piece of pie as an afterthought in an area restaurant the other night.

**

Now the same size piece is 64 cents. Sixty for the pie and four cents tax. I asked the waitress if that was correct. She assured me that it was. She also agreed with me that the price is "incredible." That was the only word I could use to express myself..."incredible."

**

Normally, I don't get excited about current costs. I think many of them are out of line and some goods and services are high priced just so the sellers can cash in on the inflation trend. But, a piece of pie for 60 cents??????

**

Read about the Boy Scouts firmly turning down an attempt by women to infiltrate the organization. Its OK for the gals to be den mothers and do all the minor work but the dominant males don't want the women in high level positions.

**

While reflecting on the foolishness of this attitude (you'll remember that the Boy Scouts also turned down a bid from girls to join up) I came across a news release trumpeting the fact that the Girl Scout Council of Orange County had appointed a man to the post of fourth vice president of the board of directors.

**

This fact may cause a few red faces among the Boy Scout VIP's. Here is a companion organization that has no discriminatory policy against men holding top level positions.

**

Want to add my voice to others who are reminding folks that the deadline to register to vote is Monday, Feb. 1. Elsewhere in this edition is a list of deputy registrars of voters whom you can contact.

**

If you have business with the Star that requires you to visit the office and find it locked up and empty we ask that you go a few doors down on Main Street, towards Imperial to 4897 where we will be located soon.

**

Moving began yesterday and will continue for a few days until we are completely relocated in our new offices. The new place can be more easily identified as the former offices of Attorney Roland Bigonger.

Salute To Volunteers

"A Salute To The Troops" will be the theme of an Appreciation Tea to be hosted by staff members of Linda Vista Elementary School in Yorba Linda. Bicentennial red, white, and blue colors will be used.

"The Linda Vista regulars would like to express their thanks to the Linda Vista Volunteers", states Kathy Bell, staff member in charge of the tea.

It will be today (Wednesday) 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the school multi-purpose room. All parents who have volunteered time to the school by working in the classroom, in the school library, with the Parent Teacher Association or other chairmanship capacities are encouraged to attend.

Unvented Gas Heater Danger Warning

County Coroner Brad Gates, along with Southern California Gas Co., warn that as many as 6,400 Orange County households are still being heated with potentially lethal unvented gas heaters.

"Residents who use these appliances risk a very real threat of death by asphyxiation," the coroner said.

"In a closed room the flame from an unvented heater can consume all the surrounding oxygen and produce carbon monoxide--a colorless, odorless and lethal gas," he added.

Unvented heaters also present a potential fire hazard. Many of these appliances have an open and unshielded flame which can easily touch off a fire and injure a child or even destroy a home.

County and gas company officials have been vigorously discouraging the use of unvented heaters for many years. They recommend that these appliances immediately be replaced with vented, forced air or wall heaters certified by a national testing laboratory.

State law has prohibited the sale of unvented heaters for more than three years. Nevertheless, many are still in regular use throughout the county.

The local coroner warns that if residents must use an unvented heater this winter, they should be aware of the potential danger and follow several safety precautions.

Make sure the heater is adjusted properly. Keep a window open in the room where the heater is located to provide an adequate oxygen supply.

Keep the heater out of reach from children and away from home furnishings that might be ignited by the open flame. Turn the heater off at bedtime. And, use only approved metal--not rubber--gas line connectors.

Two Dates For Blood Donations

Increasing numbers of voluntary donors are needed to assure an adequate supply of life-saving blood for patients in all hospitals in Orange County.

As a convenience to donors, the American Red Cross Blood Donor Center, 601 N. Golden Circle Drive, Santa Ana, will remain open until 8 on Monday, February 2, and Tuesday, February 17.

Since voluntary donor blood is less-likely than paid donor blood to transmit hepatitus, all blood administered to patients in Orange County hospitals is donated by volunteer donors.

The support of local churches, business, service clubs and civic organizations, is needed to assure that the quota of 100 pints of blood is achieved.

Persons between the ages of 17 and 65 years, weighing at least 110 pounds and in good health are invited to participate. Seventeen-year olds must present a signed parental release form which may be obtained from any Red Cross office.

Please call 835-5381 for information and appointments.

Spaulding Will Lead Committee

Richard H. Spaulding, recently retired principal of Buena Park High School, has accepted the responsibility for coordinating the activities of the Fullerton Union High School District Committee For Our High Schools.

The committee will inform voters about the seriousness of the district's financial problems and the need for the success of the base revenue increase election scheduled for March 2, 1976.

Spaulding had served the district since 1940 as a teacher, coach and administrator, including 18 years as principal of Buena Park High School, until his retirement in 1974. He was named Orange County Educator of the Year in 1973.

The committee's membership includes representatives from each high school including Mr. and Mrs. James Rheingans of Troy High.

Virtually every survey of statistics indicate that the use of seat belts every trip reduces the risk of death or serious injury.

Many Honored At Girl Scout Event

The Yorba Linda Girl Scout Service Unit held it's annual luncheon at the United Methodist Church. School organizers, troop leaders, city chairmen, and council staff representatives were honored for their services to scouting. The current Service Unit Chairman, Carolynne A. Hugins, introduced the guests.

The luncheon committee members were Marion Gillian, Kardyne Rohde, Nancy Watson, Ann Barber, Marilyn Haggar, and Anita Flagg. Light refreshments were served at 10:30 a.m. and slides were shown by Senior Troop 330.

Renee Blais and several of her Senior girls described the slides and highlights of their trip to "Our Cabana" in Mexico last summer.

The main luncheon was a sit-down affair for 95 scout leaders and guests. Following lunch, all non-scout guests were introduced. A special guest was also introduced, Mrs. Charles (Ginnie) Black, who is the Field Vice President for all of Orange County.

Awards were presented by members of the Orange-Owl Committee: Barbara Jordan, Marion Gillian, Jackie Self, Jo Ann Owens, Ann Barber, and Penny Sims.

Gold Girl Scout pins and certificates of appreciation were presented to; Jeanette Scott, for her five years as City Treasurer; Gale Oram, for serving six years as a Junior leader; Eloise Newton, for serving as Secretary of the city; Vivian Sturgeon, for many years as a Brownie and Junior leader; Doreen Hart, for many years as a Junior leader and Chairman of the girl scout family picnic.

Also: Pat Runyon, for her years as a Brownie and Junior leader; Linda Kish, for many years as a Brownie leader and Day Camp worker; Jo Ann Owens, for many years as a Brownie leader and Day Camp worker; and Bonnie Korn, for many years in all phases of scouting (registered member of girl scouts longer than any one in the city).

Walnut plaques, each inset with a gold girl scout emblem and engraved nameplate, were presented to: Jackie Self, Ex-Organizer at Fairmont School and now Junior Consultant for the city; Kardyne Rohde, current Organizer at Fairmont School; Ann Barber, Organizer at Glenn Knoll; Barbara Jordan, Organizer at Glenview and Orchard.

Also; Dorothy Gallardo, Organizer at Nixon; Penny Simms, Organizer Rose Drive; Jan Thuney, Organizer at Linda Vista; Marilyn Clarke, organizer at Mable Paine; Rena Danko, Organizer at Van Buren; and Jean Ruppert, Liasson between Community Association and the Service Unit

Foster J. Ruppert, Community Association Chairman, was presented with a beautiful desk pen set engraved with his name and position.

Barbara West, Field Staff of Orange Council, was recognized for her outstanding service and support to the local Service Unit during the past year. She was presented with a specially designed and created three-dimensional plaque.

Highlight of the presentations were the awarding of four Orange-Owl pins. Until this time, Orange-Owl pins had been awarded only to Orange County Service Unit Chairmen.

The pin, designed by the Orange County Girl Scout Council and nationally approved, is given on a highly selective basis to those individuals who have contributed in an extraordinary way, of their time and effort toward the advancement of the girl scout program.

The four recipients were Merritt Hugins, Martha Jansen, Janice Blackwood, and Ada Almgren. Hugins is the first man to be given this award. He was chosen because of his contribution of time and active participation in support of all of the Yorba Linda girl scout program.

Martha Jansen was chosen for her three years as City Cookie and Calendar Chairman and later, three years as City Camp Director.

Janice Blackwood was given the award for her six years service as the City Registrar.

Ada Almgren was recognized for her work as Special Events Chairman working with the Community Association and Service Unit.

After the awards, a special program skit was presented in vue-graph form and narrated by Kandy Calwell. A girl scout's version of "The Night Before Christmas" was the theme of the skit.

Kandy's presentation had a professional touch and was highly entertaining. She had done Little Theater work and had several short stories published by national magazines. Kandy also conducted a very moving closing ceremony.

HORSE TALES

by JOAN JOHNSON

It's that time of year again and the equine stork is on the move. He flew over our place last week and left a gorgeous leopard Appaloosa colt in one of our corrals. He'll probably be making many more calls around town in the next few weeks.

Congratulations to Yorba Linda Country Riders Corral #94 on the huge success of their January 18th competitive trail ride at Hidden Hills. I understand that 140 riders competed and, according to all reports, everybody had an absolute ball.

The "bonus obstacle" was one invented to really separate the men from the boys. It also separated two very nice gentlemen from their horses!

A future event being sponsored by Corral #94 is a worming and innoculation clinic to be held at Hidden Hills Stables on February 14th starting at 8. Dr. Gleason will be in charge of the tubes and needles and all ETI members and Hidden Hills boarders are invited to take part.

You may be asked to produce your ETI membership card, so better have it handy. There will be a nominal charge and those paying cash at the time of treatment will receive a discount.

Commencing at noon on this same day, and open to everyone, is a horsemanship clinic being conducted by Larry Lease in the arena at Hidden Hills. With a little persuasion, Larry might again demonstrate some of the techniques of saddle bronc riding.

Since there will be so much activity around the stable on this day, everyone who is not having their horse wormed or innoculated is asked to please leave their horses at home. Too much confusion causes accidents.

I have information on three horseshows this week. El Rodeo is having their monthly show on February 1st starting at 9:30. Art Gaytan will be judging.

Also on February 1st is the ETI Corral #79 horseshow at Rancho Del Rio Stables in Anaheim. Show time is 8 sharp and Rod Kelly from Chino will be judging.

February 15th is the date of the English and Western horseshow being held by the Bloomington Saddle Pals at the Kessler Arena in Bloomington. It gets underway at 8 with Judy Kennedy doing the judging.

Tuffree Championship

Winning was especially sweet for the eighth grade basketball team at Tuffree Junior High in Placentia as they finished an undefeated season to win the championship in the Placentia/Brea Athletic League.

It meant the same team won the championship two years in a row, setting a league record, according to Principal Joe Dunham.

Also piling up an 8-0 record to win a championship was the seventh grade team at Tuffree.

Runners-up in the four-school league in both seventh and eighth grade divisions are Bernardo Yorba in second place and Kraemer in third from the Placentia Unified School District and Brea in fourth.

Managers for the eighth graders were Robbie Parks and Clay Porter. Statisticians were Doug Imai, Paul Matthews and Kurt Morrison. Teacher Jim Arnoldt coached the team.

Don Millsap managed the team, and Mark Ukes was scorekeeper. Statisticians were Stan Leventhal and Jim Tracy. Jim Findlay was equipment man, and Bob Maylum the coach.
